Maham Anjum

Maham Anjum is a critically acclaimed ceramic designer who develops, designs and manufactures tableware from her workshop studio in London, England. A graduate of the Royal College of Art and Central St Martins, her designs have been used extensively in the hospitality industry as well as creating ranges for international manufacturers.

Maham has collaborated with leading chefs and restaurateurs internationally including Jamie Oliver, Asma Khan, Vivek Singh, and Lee Westcott to name a few, to create bespoke tableware. She has partnered with Steelite International to design and create its newest line of tableware: the Maham Studio Collection.

The Spice range is a stunning vitrified stoneware collaboration between Steelite and Maham that features an unglazed outside and glazed inside, using a range of glaze effects – coloured and neutrals, that are semi matt and mottled.

Featuring four fresh and light colours – Sea Salt, Cardamon, Saffron and Pink Peppercorn, the Spice collection is exciting and adaptive, looking stylish on its own, or when combined with other materials.

Made from a fully vitrified body, the Spice range can be used in the oven, making it ideal for oven to table service. It has an extremely durable body, ensuring that your tableware performs well in service. And, with a glaze that won't stain, you can guarantee that your tabletop will look newer for longer, providing your guests with the best presentation.

Perfect not just for restaurants and hotels, but great for tapas, bar food, desserts, and pastries.
